

RICHARD BRENDON

LONDON

OUR PURPOSE

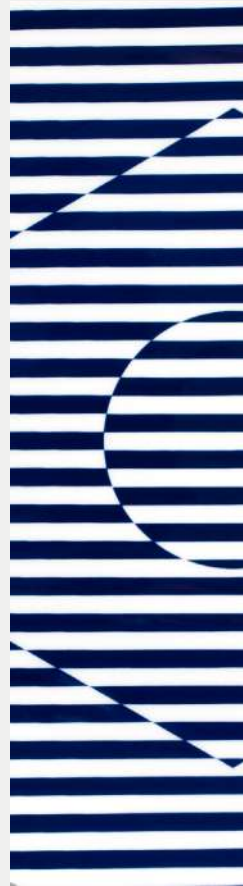

We make the everyday exceptional with beautifully crafted tableware that showcases quality, integrity and longevity, to be enjoyed and admired by generations to come. The provenance of our materials is of utmost importance, in order to enhance the everyday dining and drinking experience and ensure we are delivering the highest quality tableware products.

When designing our bone china and crystal collections, we look to both the past and future for inspiration, using only the finest materials whilst working with teams of tremendously skilled craftspeople. Safeguarding and regenerating heritage craft industries is central to everything we do, as each individual product seeks to reflect and celebrate the expert craftsmanship and design process behind it. We are always striving to become more sustainable; from endeavouring to ensure our products survive the test of time, to consistently developing our manufacturing, packaging and shipping processes to be as environmentally friendly as possible.

"I founded Richard Brendon to celebrate and preserve the skilled craftsmanship found in heritage industries around the world. From our London studio, we marry contemporary design with the very best traditional techniques to create timeless tableware collections. I am proud to say our ceramics and crystal are now treasured by food and drink lovers around the world as a result."

Richard Brendon

BONE CHINA

Our bone china is handmade in Stoke-on-Trent, England, where Josiah Spode perfected the formula for this quintessentially British material over two centuries ago, creating the strongest and most remarkable ceramic known to man. It has the whitest body and highest weight-to-strength ratio of any ceramic, and every single piece throughout our collections is handcrafted and decorated by the finest craftspeople in the trade.

V&A SERIES

Richard Brendon collaborated with The V&A to create a range of exquisite bone china, shining a light on the golden era of Georgian ceramics. Inspired by patterns discovered in their vast archives, Richard selected four designs to reimagine with playful and whimsical twists, from surreal giant caterpillars to delicate hidden butterflies. Each saucer pairs with a signature Reflect Teacup, beautifully mirroring the pattern and showcasing the decoration from all angles. Each mug, meanwhile, features a full print pattern and a subtle gold diamond motif to complete the handle.

REFLECT

The Reflect collection started with a teacup, bringing life back to antique saucers missing their other halves by using platinum and gold gilding to create highly reflective cups that have a place in contemporary homes. The collection has now grown to include matching teapots, milk jugs, sugar bowls and espresso cups in both platinum and gold. Every saucer has been meticulously sourced from antique dealers across Britain, and the images showcase examples of the style and quality of these unique pieces. Please note, we will often only have one saucer in each pattern, with multiples available only on occasion. The current catalogue and price list is available upon request; prices are dependent on the age, maker and rarity of the saucer.

LINE - PRECIOUS METAL

Every piece of Line Gold is hand painted with 22k gold, offering a subtle touch of decadence and luxury. Against the simplicity and authenticity of the pure white porcelain, the gold reinforces a sentiment of contemporary elegance and finesse.

Line Platinum provides an equally luxurious table setting, working elegantly alone or partnering beautifully with various shades of blue from Line Colour. The simplicity of each hand painted piece is sure to enhance and elevate any plate of food, without overshadowing the main event.

PRODUCT CARE

CRYSTAL

Stemmed glasses and tumblers should be placed in the top rack of the dishwasher with space in-between each glass. The proper detergents for the machine should be used, as well as water softening agents where relevant. Our products are made from lead-free glass which makes them resistant to clouding. If there is any clouding on the glass, then they will require water-softening or glass-specific detergents. Decanters should be washed by hand and dried with our lint-free polishing cloth. Glasses should not be stored upside-down. When polishing stemmed glasses, it is important not to hold the glass by the foot with one hand, while polishing the bowl with the other. Please visit the Product Care section of our website for further guidance.

CUT CRYSTAL

Cut crystal should be washed by hand with warm, soapy water and a soft sponge. Scouring pads or abrasive washing agents should not be used. Do not put cut crystal in the dishwasher as the detergents can permanently dull or scratch the surface. Cut crystal should be dried immediately after washing using a lint-free cloth. Do not put cut crystal in the microwave or conventional oven. Do not store cut crystal glasses upside-down, as the lip of the glass is delicate and may be damaged under the weight of the glass. Do not store food or beverage in cut crystal pieces, and only use for serving. Prior to using decanters for the first time, they should be filled with 50/50 solution of vinegar and water and be left to stand for 24 hours. Rinse thoroughly and dry. All pieces in the Diamond Collection should be placed on a coaster to avoid damage to any surfaces.

BONE CHINA

Bone china can be washed in the dishwasher, but at the maximum temperature of 60°C. However, where precious metals, such as gold, are used, the pieces should be washed by hand and never used in the microwave. Scouring pads or abrasive washing agents must not be used. Soaking in warm water before washing will remove most stains or hardened-on particles. Stubborn stains can be removed without causing any damage by soaking in a mild bleach solution for up to one hour. When storing plates, try to avoid sliding them over one another as this may cause tiny scratches in the glaze. We recommend placing a paper napkin or equivalent between each plate. Bone china is not suitable for oven use.

PRODUCT SPECIFICATION

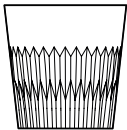

Every Richard Brendon product is designed meticulously with both aesthetic and function at front of mind. Discover our product specifications alongside all technical information, and please reach out to our sales team should you require any further information. All contact details can be found at the back of the catalogue.

PRISM COLLECTION

Following suit from Richard Brendon's Diamond and Fluted Collections, Prism honours its namesake cut originating in Georgian Britain. Featured across many designs from the period, Prism cuts typically run from the base of glassware before flowing into more elaborate detailing towards the rim. However, Richard Brendon's Prism takes historic inspiration with a contemporary twist for the modern home.

THE JANCIS ROBINSON COLLECTION

The Wine Glass is at the heart of the collection and is the only stemmed glass you will need to enjoy every wine at its best, including sparkling wine, port, sherry and sweet wines. The collection is completed with a Stemless Wine and Water Glass and two decanters, all of which are mouth blown by master craftspeople using beautifully bright, gossamer thin, lead-free crystal. Despite their seemingly delicate nature, the glasses have been designed with practicality in mind, and as such are dishwasher safe.

FLUTED COLLECTION

Richard Brendon partnered with Gleneagles Hotel, Scotland, to develop the Fluted cut crystal collection. Mouth blown and hand cut by expert craftspeople, the collection draws inspiration from the decadent cocktail culture of the Art Deco 1920s. The Fluted stemware is light and elegantly proportioned, while the tumblers are reassuringly weighty. In the Richard Brendon signature style, Fluted combines just the right amount of traditional and contemporary elements to create a progressive yet timeless collection

1821 COLLECTION

Marking Richard Brendon's debut vase collection, 1821 has been designed with both function and beauty at its heart. Taking on a deep hue of bottle green, the pieces possess a striking presence when displayed individually, but also cleverly mimic floral stems to allow blooms on display to pull central focus with a natural look and feel.

V&A DRAGON FLOWER DINNERWARE

An extension of Richard Brendon's original V&A Series, Dragon Flower further explores this beautiful pattern, initially inspired by the imports of Japanese Imari porcelain in the late 18th and early 19th century. Designs in this era were typically decorative and floral, but our contemporary take sees the florals transformed into dragons to add a mythical eastern twist. In contrast to the original V&A Series, this edition of Dragon Flower is more pared back, with the pattern used more sparingly across the dinnerware for an elegant and refined finish to the table.

V&A SERIES

Richard Brendon has collaborated with the V&A to create a collection of exquisite bone china, in order to shine a light on the golden era of Georgian ceramics. The V&A collection consists of four striking saucers to pair with his signature gold and platinum reflective teacups, alongside matching mugs. For the first instalment of the collaboration Richard has selected four of his favourite patterns from the V&A's vast archives to re-imagine with playful and whimsical twists. A great deal of consideration has gone into the research, design and creation of each of the pieces: the attention to detail in the patterns, illustrations, printing and manufacturing is second to none.

REFLECT COLLECTION

The Reflect collection started with our teacup, which brings life back to antique saucers missing their other halves by using platinum and gold gilding to create highly reflective cups. The mirrored cups reflect the patterned saucers, giving them a new lease of life and a place in contemporary homes. Each cup is skilfully decorated and then paired with a saucer, all of which have been meticulously sourced from antique dealers across Britain.

PRINT CLUB LONDON - MAX MACHEN

Richard Brendon has collaborated with screen printing studio Print Club London to create a collection of mugs, celebrating in particular the work of three artists; Margaux Carpentier, Max Machen and Rose Stallard. Based in London, Print Club screen prints the work of their artists in their own studio, allowing them to meticulously monitor the quality and finish of their artwork which has in hand led to them working with some of the UK's best illustrators and artists. Our collaboration brings together both brands' values of expert craftsmanship and the celebration of British skill with four bespoke patterns from each artist, creating a diverse and colourful collection to brighten the contemporary home.

V&A DRAGON FLOWER DINNERWARE

An extension of Richard Brendon’s original V&A Series, Dragon Flower further explores this beautiful pattern, initially inspired by the imports of Japanese Imari porcelain in the late 18th and early 19th century. Designs in this era were typically decorative and floral, but our contemporary take sees the florals transformed into dragons to add a mythical eastern twist. In contrast to the original V&A Series, this edition of Dragon Flower is more pared back, with the pattern used more sparingly across the dinnerware for an elegant and refined finish to the table.
